"We enjoyed this campground because of the friendly service, the cleanliness, and the location. As full-timers, we stay here in the spring and the fall for a month each to visit our family and the historic sights. There are trains, but we do not find them intrusive--we enjoy hearing and seeing them. The laundry room and restrooms are kept clean and in good working order. If a camper needs any help with hooking up or leveling or information, the staff is readily available and willing to help. The sites are a little tight, but adequate. There is a little road noise, but no more than in many place. Good place to stay... We camped here in a Fifth Wheel."

-5 out of 5 stars

"We traveled to Williamsburg in a large motorhome from California. We found the park to be very clean and orderly. The park is centrally located making it very easy to visit all the nearby attractions and is also close to shopping and many restaurants. There is a train that runs adjacent to the park but my husband and I did not find it bothersome. What made our stay here extra special was the staff, in particular BERNICE. She greeted us upon our arrival and throughout our stay gave us valuable information about the city, surrounding activities and festivals, etc. We would not have gone to the Daffodil Festival in Gloucester if not for her and we had a full day of fun there. We are full time travelers and will definitely return to Anvil Campground on our next trip around the US! Jennie/Jo."
